SECOND SUPPLEMENT

TO THE

GENERAL REGISTER

OF THE

SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS

A. D. 1911

PUBLISHED BY DIRECTION OF
THE GENERAL COUNCIL

NEW YORK
1911

SYRACUSE
LIBRARY

THIS volume is published in accordance with a resolution of the General Council of the Society, adopted at its meeting in Portland, Me., June 10th, 1910, which provided that during the year 1911, a second supplement to the General Register of 1899-1902 be published under the authority of the Secretary-General giving the names of those who have joined the Society or have filed supplemental lines since the first Supplement to this General-Register was issued in July, 1906, together with the accompanying genealogical data. The Secretary-General during the autumn of that year issued a circular to the officers of the State Societies calling attention to the coming publication of the Second Supplement, requesting that preliminary data be forwarded to him and fixing the date as of which the volume would appear as February 2nd, 1911.

During the Spring of 1911 it became evident that on account of lack of interest in the publication displayed by some of the State Secretaries it would be inexpedient to publish the Supplement as of February 2nd, so the date was moved forward to July 1st, and a notice to that effect was issued. As the summer months progressed, it became evident that the only way to obtain reports from the delinquent State Societies was by an active letter campaign, which was inaugurated, and after considerable efforts the last data was submitted about the middle of November, 1911. As many corrections were found necessary in it the volume did not actually go to the printer until late in February, 1912.

The loose way in which the records of some of the State Societies had been kept became plainly evident when the data was submitted. Many of the dates, names, etc., as submitted in this data conflicted with those appearing in previous publications of the General Society. This state of facts forced the adoption of the rule that where the data submitted by a State Society conflicted with any information previously published, the old name or date would be retained and the new date disregarded unless it could be shown by quoting authorities that the data as heretofore published was incorrect. Between five and six hundred cases of this sort were returned to the State Secretaries for correction. In many cases the Secretaries in returning the same quoted no authority, but merely reiterated the statement that he knew the data as first submitted by him was correct. In order that no surprise might arise when this Supplement is distributed, a further notice was issued to the State Secretaries calling their attention to the strict enforcement of the rule and giving them an opportunity to recall any data for further correction if they had any doubts about having brought themselves within its requirements. It was found impossible to return the papers a second time unless specifically called for.

All this data in regard to the disputed cases was returned upon specially prepared blanks of uniform size, and it is the intention of the Secretary-General to have these original blanks bound and deposited with the Registrar-General for further reference. Furthermore, in regard to the dates, names, etc., that had not appeared in any previous publication, the same are printed in this volume as received. No attempt was made to verify their correctness, as the expense attending such verification would have added a prohibitive cost to this volume. The Secretary-General leaves this to the Editors of the subsequent publications of the Society to change the same when next it appears if it is found to be incorrect.

In addition to the above appears a list of the officers of the State Societies on July 1, 1911, and a necrology since the publication of the First Supplement.

Following the First Supplement an alphabetical list of all members of the Society on July 1, 1911, is inserted. It was thought best not to publish a Corrigenda.

It was thought desirable not to have inserted the Seals of any of the State Societies that had been published before, so those that appear in this volume do so for the first time. The Secretary-General takes this opportunity to thank the officers of the several State Societies that have assisted him in obtaining copies of the illustrations that appear and which ought to add much to the value and attractiveness of the Supplement.

The Secretary-General has departed from the usual custom of printing under the head of the General Society the usual matter appearing in former publications by adding to it a list of the former General Officers, together with the dates of their terms of office, a brief record of the origin of the General Society, with a list of the delegates and alternates to the First General Assembly, and a chronicle of its doings from that time. The Secretary-General has labored earnestly to verify each date, but if errors have crept in he would be much obliged if notice of the same be given to him in order that they may be corrected on his books. He thought it was important that this information be preserved in printed form, particularly as he found the General Society's records in many instances incomplete and had to supply the omissions from outside sources, which information would have been harder to obtain as time goes on.

As much of the data was submitted so long after July 1, 1911, and a long time consumed in returning the same for correction, the proof received from the printer was not returned to the several State Societies for correction but was corrected from the data as finally submitted. The responsibility for the correctness of the data rests with the State Secretaries or Registrars and the comparison of the same with the printer's proof with the Secretary-General.

To those Secretaries and Registrars who promptly sent in the data of their States and who have cheerfully aided in the corrections of any errors in previous publications of the General Society, the Secretary-General returns his hearty thanks.

He also wishes to acknowledge the faithful services of Mr. Ferdinand M. MacDougal, the Librarian of the New York Society, for the aid given by him in the preparation of this volume.

CLARENCE STORM,
Secretary-General.

ORIGIN OF THE GENERAL SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS.

The General Society of Colonial Wars was organized on May 9 and 10, 1893, in the Governor's Room, City Hall, New York City, by delegates from five States and the District of Columbia. A Constitution was adopted on May 10, 1893, subject to the approval of a majority of the delegates present at an adjourned meeting of the General Assembly, and the General Officers were then elected. An adjourned meeting of the General Assembly was held at the Hotel New Netherland, New York City, on December 19, 1893, and the Constitution as amended unanimously adopted. The final session of the First General Assembly was held in Congress Hall, Philadelphia, May 7 and 8, 1896.

CONSTITUTION.

Adopted at a meeting of the First General Assembly of the Society, May 10, 1893, subject to approval at an adjourned meeting, and unanimously adopted as amended at such adjourned meeting on December 19, 1893. Amendments adopted May 10, 1899, May 21, 1902, May 8, 1908.

PREAMBLE.

Whereas, It is desirable that there should be adequate celebrations commemorative of the events of Colonial History, happening from the settlement of Jamestown, Va., May 13, 1607, to the battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775:

Therefore, The Society of Colonial Wars has been instituted to perpetuate the memory of those events, and of the men who, in military, naval, and civil positions of high trust and responsibility, by their acts or counsel, assisted in the establishment, defence, and preservation of the American Colonies, and were in truth founders of this nation. With this end in view, it seeks to collect and preserve manuscripts, rolls, relics, and records; to provide suitable commemorations or memorials relating to the American Colonial period, and to inspire in its members the fraternal and patriotic spirit of their forefathers, and in the community, respect and reverence for those whose public services made our freedom and unity possible.

The Society shall be known by the name and title of the General Society of Colonial Wars.

ARTICLE I.
NAME.

Any male person above the age of twenty-one years, of good moral character and reputation, shall be eligible to membership in the Society of Colonial Wars, who is lineally descended in the male or female line from an ancestor:

ARTICLE II.
MEMBERSHIP.

(1) Who served as a military or naval officer, or as a soldier, sailor, or marine, or as a privateersman, under authority of the Colonies which afterward formed the United States, or in the forces of Great Britain which participated with those of the said Colonies in any wars in which the said Colonies were engaged, or in which they enrolled men, from the settlement of Jamestown, May 13, 1607, to the battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775; or

(2) Who held office in any of the Colonies between the dates above mentioned, either as

(a) Director-General, Vice-Director-General, or member of the Council, or legislative body in the Colony of New Netherlands;

(b) Governor, Lieutenant or Deputy Governor, Lord Proprietor, member of the King's or Governor's Council, or legislative body in the Colonies of New York, New Jersey, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Delaware;

(c) Lord Proprietor, Governor, Deputy Governor, or member of the Council, or of the legislative body in Maryland and the Carolinas;

(d) Governor, Deputy Governor, Governor's Assistant, or Commissioner to the United Colonies of New England, or member of the Council, body of Assistants, or legislative body in any of the New England Colonies.

One collateral representative of an ancestor such as above specified shall be eligible for membership, provided there be no existing lineal descendant, and provided that such person be the oldest collateral representative in the male line of such ancestor, or has filed with the Secretary-General of the Society written renunciations from all other persons having nearer claims to representation.

No State Society shall adopt any rule of eligibility for membership which shall admit any person not eligible for membership in the General Society.

But any State Society may, except as to members transferred from another State Society, further restrict, at its discretion, the basis of eligibility for membership in its own Society.

ARTICLE III. GENERAL SOCIETY.

The General Society of Colonial Wars shall consist of the Societies now existing in the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and District of Columbia, and such other State Societies as may from time to time be duly organized and authorized by the General Society.

Whenever the word "State" occurs in this Constitution it shall be held to include within its meaning the Territories of the United States and the District of Columbia.

ARTICLE IV.
OFFICERS.

The officers of the General Society of Colonial Wars shall be: A Governor-General, a Vice Governor-General, a Deputy Governor-General from each State Society, a Secretary-General, a Deputy Secretary-General, a Treasurer-General, a Deputy Treasurer-General, a Registrar-General, an Historian-General, a Chaplain-General, a Chancellor-General, and a Surgeon-General. With the exception of the Deputy Governors-General, the above officers shall be elected by a plurality vote of the delegates present at a General Assembly of the Society. Vacancies occurring by death or resignation may be filled by the General Council for the unexpired term. Each Deputy Governor-General shall be elected by a plurality vote of the delegates present in the General Assembly from the State from which said Deputy Governor-General is chosen. The above officers shall serve until the next regular meeting of the General Assembly and until their successors are duly chosen.

ARTICLE V.
MEETINGS.

A General Assembly of the General Society shall be held every three years, at such time and place as the preceding Assembly shall appoint, or authorize to be appointed.

Special General Assemblies may be held upon the order of the Governor-General, or upon the call of the Secretary-General or Deputy Secretary-General, issued at the request of the Governors or Acting Governors of three State Societies, or else at the written request of five Deputy Governors-General.

General Assemblies shall be composed of the members of the General Council, and five delegates from each State Society, to be chosen by the State Councils respectively, or otherwise as may be prescribed by the respective State Societies; and all vacancies arising from any cause in any State Delegation may be filled for the unexpired term by the State Council concerned.

The term of service of the delegates shall be for three years and until their successors be elected.

Delegates or General Officers representing seven State Societies shall constitute a quorum of the General Assembly for the transaction of business; the proceedings shall be in accordance with parliamentary law, and only the votes of those present shall be counted.

The order of business shall be:

1. The calling of the General Assembly to order by the Governor-General, Vice Governor-General, or in their absence by the Secretary-General.
2. Prayer by the Chaplain-General.
3. Reading of Minutes of last General Assembly.
4. Report from Secretary-General.
5. Report from Treasurer-General.
6. Reports from Committees and Officers.
7. Unfinished Business.
8. New Business.
9. Reports from State Societies.
10. Election of Officers.
11. Benediction by the Chaplain-General.

The minutes of each Assembly shall be read before its final adjournment.

ARTICLE VI.
STATE SOCIETIES.

Each State Society shall annually transmit to the Secretary-General a circular letter stating the number of its members, general matters of interest, and any suggestions which may be deemed of advantage to the Society. Each State Society shall, in the month of January in each year, pay to the Treasurer-General the sum of $25.00.

ARTICLE VII.
POWERS OF THE GENERAL SOCIETY.

The General Society shall have sole power of action in the national, as distinct from the State affairs of the organization. It shall have jurisdiction to pass upon all questions of eligibility referred to it by the Registrar-General; but shall not otherwise interfere in the regulations or government of any State Society, unless by a plurality vote of the General Assembly, when the surrender of a State charter may be demanded, should an investigation show that such action is necessary for the welfare of the Societies at large. It shall have power to grant charters to States other than those in which the Society is already organized, provided that at least nine persons duly qualified to be members make such application. It shall issue the insignia and the diploma of membership. It shall publish the Year-book with the co-operation of the several State Societies; and the cost shall be defrayed by the latter in proportion to their membership.

The General Council which shall be composed of all the General Officers shall exercise the powers of the General Society (except those of demanding State charters, and of amending the Constitution) between meetings of the General Assembly, to which latter body it shall regularly report all its transactions.

ARTICLE VIII. GOVERNOR-GENERAL. The Governor-General, the Vice-Governor-General, or in their absence a duly selected temporary presiding officer, shall preside at all General Assemblies and meetings of the General Council of the Society.

VICE-GOVERNOR-GENERAL. The Vice-Governor-General shall perform the duties of the Governor-General in case of the death, absence from the country, or inability of the Governor-General to act and generally assist the Governor-General in the performance of his duties.

ARTICLE IX. SECRETARY-GENERAL. The Secretary-General shall be keeper of the Great Seal of the Society, and of the General Society flag, and of the diploma. He shall conduct the general correspondence of the Society and keep a record thereof. He shall have charge of the printing and publications of the Society. He shall give due notice of the time and place of the holding of all meetings of the General Assembly, and of the General Council; and shall keep full record of their proceedings.

DEPUTY SECRETARY-GENERAL. The Deputy Secretary-General shall perform the duties of the Secretary-General in case of the death, absence from the country, or inability of the Secretary-General to act, and generally assist the Secretary-General in the performance of his duties.

ARTICLE X.
TREASURER-GENERAL.

The Treasurer-General shall collect and keep the funds and securities of the Society, and deposit and invest them subject to the direction of the General Council. Out of these funds he shall pay such sums as may be ordered by the General Council. He shall keep a full account of his receipts and payments, and at each General Assembly, or when required by the General Council, shall render an account of the same. He shall be custodian of the die of the insignia, and may issue the insignia and rosettes.

For the faithful performance of his duty, he may be required to give such security as the General Council may deem proper.

DEPUTY TREASURER-GENERAL.

The Deputy Treasurer-General shall perform the duties of the Treasurer-General in case of the death, absence from the country, or inability of the Treasurer-General to act, and generally assist the Treasurer-General in the performance of his duties.

ARTICLE XI.
REGISTRAR-GENERAL.

It shall be the duty of each State Society to file with the Registrar-General a duplicate of the application of each member. The Registrar-General shall receive and file all duplicate applications upon which membership has been granted, with a list of all diplomas signed by him, and all documents which the Society may acquire. It shall also be his duty to submit to the General Council any application for membership which, in his opinion, does not fulfil the requirements of Article II. of this Constitution.

ARTICLE XII.
HISTORIAN-GENERAL.

The Historian-General shall keep a detailed record of all historical and commemorative celebrations of the General Society, and shall edit and prepare for publication such historical addresses, papers and other documents as the Society may decide to publish.

ARTICLE XIII.
CHAPLAIN-GENERAL.

The Chaplain-General shall be an ordained minister of a Christian Church, and it shall be his duty to officiate when called upon by the proper officers.

ARTICLE XIV.
CHANCELLOR-GENERAL.

The Chancellor-General shall be a lawyer duly admitted to the bar, and it shall be his duty to give legal opinions on matters affecting the Society when called upon by the proper officers.

ARTICLE XV.
SURGEON-GENERAL.

The Surgeon-General shall be a practising physician.

ARTICLE XVI.
GREAT SEAL.

The Great Seal of the General Society shall be: Within a beaded Annulet, a title scroll, "1607, General Society of Colonial Wars, 1775;" and in base the motto: "Fortiter Pro Patria," surrounding diaper charged with nine mullets. Over all a shield, surmounted of the crown, bearing American Colonial seals quarterly of nine: I. VIRGINIA: Argent, a cross gules between four escutcheons each regally crowned proper, the first and fourth escutcheons France and England quarterly; second escutcheon, Scotland; third, Ireland: II. NEW YORK: Argent, a beaver bendways proper, on a bordure tenny, a belt of wampum of the first: III. MASSACHUSETTS: Azure, on a mount between two

IV. NEW HAMPSHIRE: Quarterly, first and fourth grand quarter of France and England; second, Scotland; third, Ireland; over all an escutcheon of pretence; azure billetee or, a lion rampant of the second, for Nassau. V. CONNECTICUT: Argent, a dexter hand issuing out of clouds in dexter chief, holding a double scroll proper, fesseways, bearing the legend, "Sustinet qui transtulit;" in base fifteen grape-vines, six, five, four, leaved and fructed proper. VI. MARYLAND: Quarterly first and fourth paly of six or and sable, a bend counterchanged, for Calvert; second and third, per fesse and per pale argent and gules, a cross bottony counterchanged for Crossland (seal of Lord Baltimore). VII. RHODE ISLAND: Azure, an anchor in pale or. VIII. NEW JERSEY: Quarterly, first, England impaling Scotland; second, France; third, Ireland; fourth, per pale and per chevron; first, gules two lions passant guardant in pale or, for Brunswick; second, or, semée of hearts, a lion rampant azure, for Lunenburgh; third, gules, a horse courant argent, for Westphalia; over all an inescutcheon gules, charged with the crown of Charlemagne. IX. PENNSYLVANIA: Argent, on a fesse sable, three plates; (Arms of Penn.)

ARTICLE XVII. INSIGNIA.

The insignia of the Society shall consist of a badge, pendant by a gold crown and ring, from a watered silk ribbon one inch and a half wide of red, bordered with white and edged with red. The badge shall be surrounded by a laurel wreath in gold and shall consist of :

Obverse : A white enameled star of nine points bordered with red enamel, having between each star-point a shield displaying an emblem of one of the nine original colonies; and, within a blue enameled garter bearing the motto "Fortiter Pro Patria," an Indian's head in gold relievo.

Reverse : The star above described, but with gold edge, each shield between the points displaying a mullet, and in the center, within an annulet of blue bearing the title, "Society of Colonial Wars, 1607–1775," the figure of a colonial soldier in gold relievo. The reverse of the crown of each insignia shall bear an engraved number, corresponding to that of the registered number of the member to whom such insignia has been issued.

The insignia shall be worn by the members on all occasions when they assemble as such, for any stated purpose or celebration, and may be worn on any occasion of ceremony. It shall be worn conspicuously on the left breast; but members who are or have been Gentlemen of the Council of a State Society, may place a rosette of regulation pattern upon the silk ribbon from which it is pendant. Members who are or have been General Officers, or officers of a State Society, may wear the insignia with three jewels in the crown, and suspended from a regulation ribbon around the neck. Members who are or have been Governors, Deputy Governors or Lieutenant-Governors of State Societies, or officers of the General

Society may, in addition to the insignia so suspended, wear a ribbon of the Society's colors, three and one-half inches in width, extending from the right shoulder to the left hip. The insignia shall be worn only as above prescribed.

The undressed insignia shall be a rosette or button of the size now in use, of red watered silk with white thread edging, like the insignia ribbon.

On ordinary occasions members may wear this rosette in the upper buttonhole of the left lapel of the coat, provided it be not used at the same time with any other insignia of the Society.

ARTICLE XVIII.
DIPLOMA.

The diploma of this Society shall bear the following words:

GENERAL SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS.

To All Whom it May Concern.

Greeting: Know ye, this is to certify that on the _____ day of _____, in the year of our Lord _____, and in the year of this Society the _____ Gentleman, was duly elected an Hereditary Member of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of _____ by right of his descent from _____

In Witness Whereof; We have hereunto signed our names and affixed the Great Seal of the General Society.

Officers of the General Society.

_____ Governor-General.

_____ Registrar-General.

Bordering the top and left side of the diploma is an ornamental scrollwork containing within the initial letter "G." of "General Society," a representation of Captain Myles Standish and a band of Colonial soldiery; the initial surmounted by the imperial crown of the British Empire, and having below it the motto of the Society. Ranged along the scroll are shields bearing the arms of the original nine colonies as emblazoned in the Great Seal of the Society; and around these are emblems of colonial warfare, with the flags of Sweden and New Netherlands, and the rose, thistle, shamrock, and cornflower—badges respectively of England, Scotland, Ireland and Germany. At the center at top is a cluster of Indian weapons and the head of a Sachem charged upon the fleur-de-lis of France.

ARTICLE XIX. FLAG. The flag of this Society shall consist of the red cross of St. George on a white field, bearing in the center the escutcheon of the General Society surmounted by the crown and surrounded by nine stars.

ARTICLE XX. STATE SECRETARIES. It shall be competent for the General Council to appoint State Secretaries in States where no State Societies exist, with a view to represent the interest of this Society, and, if authorized to do so, to prepare for the organization of New State Societies. Such State Secretaries shall be subject to the direction and regulation of the General Council. Their appointment shall be for a limited time, not to exceed one year, but may be renewed.

LOUISBOURG MONUMENT erected by the General Society at Louisbourg, Cape Breton Island, to commemorate its capture by the First Louisbourg Expedition under Pepperrell, assisted by the British fleet under Warren, on June 17th, 1745. The monument was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies on June 17th, 1895, the 150th anniversary of the capture of the fortress.

They may be removed for cause, and their office shall terminate upon the organization of, and grant of a charter to, a Society in their State. They shall communicate with and receive communication from the Society through the Secretary-General.

ARTICLE XXI.
MEMBERS OF STATE SOCIETIES.

The General Council shall elect to membership only charter members of new State Societies; whose membership shall be ipso facto transferred to their own State Society with the grant of its charter. No State Society shall elect to membership persons resident within the territory of another State Society, except upon written consent given in advance by the Council of the latter Society. But members changing residence from one State to another, or coming within the jurisdiction of a new State Society, may at their option retain membership in the State Society in which they were originally admitted.

A member of any State Society may be admitted to membership by action of the Council of another State Society, within the bounds of which he is resident, upon satisfactory proof of his membership in good standing in the Society from which he comes, and subject to the rules and regulations of the Society he enters.

ARTICLE XXII.
ALTERATIONS AND AMENDMENTS.

No alteration of or amendment to this Constitution shall be made, unless proposed in writing by the Council of a State Society, or by the General Council. The Secretary-General shall send a printed copy of the proposed amendment to each State Society, naming the time when and place where it will be voted upon. At least ninety days' notice shall be given to each State Society. Whenever any amendment is under consideration in the General Assembly it shall be open to any modification or change germane to the proposed amendment. No such change or modification shall be made, nor shall any amendment to this Constitution be adopted, unless the same shall receive the votes of two-thirds of the members of the General Assembly present when the vote is taken.

OBVERSE and reverse of the Louisbourg Medal struck by the General Society in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the capture of Louisbourg on June 17th, 1745. The metal from which these medals were struck was from an old bronze cannon found in the wreck of a French frigate supposed to be "Le Celèbre" sunk in Louisbourg harbor.

SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS

In Memoriam.

ARTHUR J. C. SOWDON,

Governor-General,

1905–1911.

SINCE the last meeting of the Council, the Governor-General of the Society has passed to his rest; and for the second time in its brief history the Society mourns the loss of its honoured head.

ARTHUR JOHN CLARK SOWDON died in his apartments, Beacon Street, Boston, on the third day of June, 1911, at the age of seventy-six.

A native of Boston, where he was born March 6, 1835, Boston was always his home. He was graduated from Harvard College in the class of 1857, a class well remembered for the large number of its members who in after life attained distinction in their several professions. He continued his studies in the Harvard Law School, and was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1861; but his subsequent practice in his profession was limited, as he found attractive and profitable interests in the real estate business, from which, however, he retired in 1872, having accumulated or inherited a comfortable competence. Living modestly, he was, for his means, through all his subsequent life, a cheerful, judicious and generous contributor to many charities, and at his death bequeathed to objects dear to him, including the Massachusetts Society of Colonial Wars, a portion of his moderate estate.

Possessed of leisure, his interests developed in many directions.

In his early professional life he joined the First Corps of Cadets, and after his retirement from the service, he became and remained a member of the Veteran Cadets.

Mr. Sowdon always took a keen interest and for many years an active part in political affairs. As early as 1863 he represented his district in the Gubernatorial Convention, and gave his support to John A. Andrew for Governor of the Commonwealth. Accepting the principles upon which the Republican party was founded, he was not afraid to act independently, and outside the party lines when his convictions compelled him to the belief that the party was departing from those principles. And it was this independence of party when principle was involved, and his oppositon to the spirit of intolerance which manifested itself in the treatment of the South after the Civil War, that gave him prominence in the Councils of independent Republicans and Democrats for many years.

Mr. Sowdon had little desire for public office; and the only one he ever held was that of representative from Boston in the Massachusetts General Court of 1879 and 1880.

In municipal affairs, especially when there was a "citizen's movement," he took an active part, believing that all party lines should be ignored in a contest between honest government and a system of grafts and spoils. In the many campaigns of this character in Boston he could always be found doing valiant service on the right side.

In his later years political ties were less strong; and on a national question like that of the tariff he was a supporter of democratic principles. On the question of civil service reform he was one of the earliest to give his aid.

As a member of the Committees appointed to raise the necessary funds for the building of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and the Memorial Hall at Harvard, Mr. Sowdon did efficient and appreciative service.

Not less useful was he in the ecclesiastical affairs to which for many years he gave much of his time. A member at an early day of the Episcopal Church, he cheerfully devoted to its interests time and labor and financial support. The value of his services was recognized not only by the parish of whose vestry he was so long a member, and by the diocese—which elected him year after year to its Standing Committee—and to other offices of responsibility and honour but also by the General Convention of the American Church, in which for several triennial periods he sat as a delegate from Massachusetts.

Mr. Sowdon also was connected with many other organizations,—social, civic, economic, patriotic, religious,—among them the Union and St. Botolph Clubs, the Reform Club, the Bostonian Society, the Bunker Hill Monument Association, the New England Historical and Genealogical Society, the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Men's Christian Union. But in no organization, except the Church, did he take larger interest or find greater pleasure than in this, the Society of Colonial Wars. Here he enjoyed the birthright of his honoured ancestry. It knit him to the past with its glorious memories, and in it he entered into the life of those who made the Society, who made even the nation possible.

As one of the early members of the Massachusetts Society he was of great assistance in the adoption of principles and customs which have been maintained to the present time and have added largely to the usefulness of the Society to its members, and to its influence in the Community.

Chosen Governor of the State Society in 1896 and holding the office until his election as Governor-General on the death of the lamented de Peyster, he gave, in both of these high positions, unstintingly of his time and strength to maintain and further the highest aims of the Society.

We have lost the leadership of our head—the companionship of our friend and brother; but we cannot lose the example and influence of his cultivated and refined character, strongly imbued with religious faith.

Fortunate and happy has the Society been in its two Governors-General de Peyster and Sowdon; worthy were they of the regard and affection of those who knew them; worthy of the honour and responsibilities they bore; worthy may we be of their memory.

At a meeting of the General Council of the Society of Colonial Wars held at New York City, November 21st, 1911, the following resolution was carried unanimously by a rising vote after the reading by Dr. Hutchins of the foregoing obituary notice.

Resolved that it is with the deepest emotion that we note upon these minutes the death of our late Governor-General Mr. Arthur J. C. Sowdon, and that the obituary notice just read be spread in full upon the minutes of this meeting and that the Secretary-General be instructed to have the same printed and a copy sent to the General Officers and Secretaries of the State Societies and also to the family of Mr. Sowdon.

The meeting then took a recess out of respect to the memory of Mr. Sowdon.

NEW YORK from the southwest in 1740, reproduced from Valentine's Manual of 1858. The view shows in the foreground Fort George, on the site of which now stands the United States Custom House, facing the lower end of Broadway. In front of the fort is the Battery walk, as it was then known. Subsequently land was filled in to make what is now Battery Park or The Battery

TABLET erected by the Society in the State of New York at the northeast corner of Wall and William Streets, New York City, and unveiled on September 29th, 1909, in connection with the Hudson-Fulton Celebration. The tablet marks approximately the spot where stood a bastion of the wall which, between 1653 and 1699, extended along the line of the present Wall Street and gave it its name.

ON November 21st, 1908, the 275th anniversary of the sailing of the first colonists from England for Maryland, the bronze statue of Cecilius Calvert, Second Lord Baltimore, was unveiled in the presence of the Governor of the State with his Staff, the Mayor of Baltimore, and many other officials. The statue, which is of heroic size, stands on an elevated pedestal of white marble, placed upon the steps of the Western façade of the Court House. The front of the pedestal bears the arms of Calvert, and below is the inscription:

"Cecilius Calvert
1606-1675
Founder of Maryland."

The sub-base has the following: "Erected under the auspices of The Society of Colonial Wars in the State of Maryland, November 21, 1908, DeCourcey Wright Thom being Governor of the Society."

The rear face of the pedestal has the following inscription: "Cecilius Calvert, Baron Baltimore of Baltimore in the Kingdom of Ireland, Absolute Lord and Proprietary of the Provinces of Maryland and Avalon in America, who, on November 13, 1633, with the co-operation and assent of the first colonists, proclaimed in England, and on March 25, 1634, established in the Palatinate of Maryland for the first time in the English speaking world freedom of religious worship according to any Christian form, and separation of Church and State."

TABLET erected by the Society in the State of New Jersey, in co-operation with The Somerset Historical Society, to mark the site of the First Court House of Somerset County, dating from 1716. On November 15th, 1910, during the bi-centennial of the organization of the Reformed Church of Franklin Park, some six miles southwest of New Brunswick, the Tablet was unveiled as a feature of the Church celebration.

The site of the marking stone upon which the tablet is set is near the Church edifice
